PUBLICATION DATE: June 12, 2020 Open COVID-19 Declaration (OCD) v1.3

In view of the global COVID-19 pandemic, we hereby declare, without seeking any compensation, that, for the purpose of establishing an environment in which the owner of intellectual property rights shall not enforce such rights in a manner that might hinder the expeditious provision of medical care, infection control, infection prevention and other countermeasures to prevent the spread of COVID-19:

- 1. The declarer will not assert any patent, utility model, design or copyright (hereinafter referred to as the "Intellectual Property Rights*i") against any individual or other entity during the period starting with the date of this Declaration and ending on the date on which the World Health Organization (WHO) declares that the COVID-19 outbreak no longer constitutes a Public Health Emergency of International Concern, with respect to the activities whose sole purpose is stopping the spread of COVID-19, such as diagnosis. prevention, containment and treatment of COVID-19*ii.
- 2. This Declaration shall not be construed as a warranty, express or implied, of patentability, validity or merchantability, or that any third party's rights would not be infringed by exercise of the Intellectual Property Rights.
- 3. This Declaration shall not apply to any individual or entity who initiates an infringement warning or suit, or other legal proceeding involving intellectual property, against the declarer*iii of this Declaration.
- 4. The declarer shall discuss the possibility and the terms of license under its Intellectual Property Rights in the event that any person or entity wishes to obtain such license after the term of this Declaration.
- 5. The declarer may impose any additional limitations on the scope of this Declaration by specifying such limitations in the attached Attachment.
- 6. All copyrights in and to this Declaration are waived and provided to the public domain.

In witness whereof, the declarer executes this Declaration and submits it to the office of the OPEN COVID-19 DECLARATION.
